Data for Decisions

The outer ring (green) links 6 components related to people partnership and planning that support data production and data use.

The middle ring (blue) links the 5 components related to data management processes – collection, capture and verification of all types of M&E data, according to all levels of the M&E staircase.

The inner ring (red) involves analysing data to create information which is then disseminated to inform and empower decision-making at all levels.
